The author contemplated that since Christ is the Creator, He could have taught His Disciples the Law that reveals that perception from a rational perspective. Then those who seek to do the Will of God would have in unity practiced His Law.

The author then set out to search for the reason that the Lord regardless of its problematic nature established a faith-based teaching. That perception led the author to focus on scriptures that inform the People of God that the Lord showed the Prophet Daniel and the Apostle John visions that He commanded to be sealed until the time of the end. These scriptures led to the Isaiah proclamation that proclaims that during the Last Days the Law of God would be established. Since there are signs that we presently are experiencing the Last Days, the author deemed it justified to search for that Law.

In the Intelligent Design, we give an account how the search led to the compiling of the proclaimed Law. The law reveals in a rational setting that Jesus Christ is the Creator of all that was created. The Law further reveals the reason for the sealing and illuminates the Lord's teaching that no person comes to the Father then through Him (John 14:6). This signifies that when a believer professes Jesus Christ they make a transition to the Realm of God that is Paradise.

The Law further reveals the Righteousness of God: If believers seek to do the Will of the Lord, but do not make the confession concerning Christ, they enter the New Earth where they may discover, as it was proclaimed by the Prophet Isaiah, that Jesus Christ is "The mighty God and The everlasting Father" (Isai 9:6). They then will make a transition to Paradise.
